Hey, what's going on down there? Asks Mickey, four-year-old flying terrier owned by Sanford R Mirling, 15 Packard way. Yep, Mickey takes a lively interest in everything about flying and he can rightly claim to be Brockton's most air-minded dog with some five hours in a plane to his credit. His master is one of this city's well-known pilots and seldom takes a trip without the dog who enjoys "looking out the window" to see what's going on.

47-1161 Mr. And Mrs. Anthony Silvey, 11 Somerset Place, and pet parrotFebruary 1947

Polly Makepeace, perched nonchalantly on the end of her master's banjo, is claimed by her owners, Mr. And Mrs. Anthony Silvey, 11 Somerset Place, Brockton, to be this city's most talkative bird. They Boast she has a vocabulary of some 200 different words and can in addition render music to the accompaniment of the banjo. Her favorite expression is a tongue twister which would stump even some human beings: "Around the rugged rock the ragged rascal ran." The bird is 20 years old, a mere invant in the parrot world, its owners say.

Mr. And Mrs. Joseph N. Harb, 75 Huntington Street, were signally honored Sunday afternoon with the posthumous award of the Soldiers' Medal, seventh highest U.S. Army medal, in ceremonies at the War Memorial. In this picture, Capt. Francis E. Brown of Taconite, Minn., an officer of the Quincy recruiting office, pins the medal on Mrs. Harb as her husband and Staff Sergeant John P. Murphy of Brockton, extreme right, and VFW chaplain Willard Q. Kinsman look on. Representatives of veterans organizations in Brockton took part. Their son, Bernard M. Harb, drowned in a vain attempt to save others from a similar fate in Florida.

47-1202 Mrs. Mary U. Comeau of 14 Minot Avenue March, 1947

No shirker is Mrs. Mary U. Comeau of 14 Minot Avenue when it comes to traveling about the country alone. At 87, Mrs. Comeau this week made her 20th annual visit to the flower show in Boston, and as usual traveled alone. For Mrs. Comeau, mother of four children, grandmother of 12, and great grandmother of 3, such a trip is not unusual. Mrs. Comeau crochets, knits, cooks, and does housework as well as women 25 years younger. Her children are Frederick J. Comeau and Mrs. Eva L. Cormier, 14 Minot Avenue, with whom she lives; Francis J. Comeau of Boston and Mrs. Rose A. Allen of Fall River.

47-1320 Sgt. Boston and Ex-Sgt. Hatch in Reunion No Date

During the war Joseph H. Boston of Orlando, FL, and James A. Harch of Brockton made 50 and 42 missions respectively from Italy over enemy-held European territory in the same plane crew, and lived to tell about it. Today Master Sergeant Boston, who is currently stationed at the Brockton recruiting office and Former Staff Sergeant Hatch, now a civilian living at 39 Thayer avenue, Whitman, held a get together for the first time since they were tail gunners overseas, and they were with their wives on this occasion, although both were single overseas. During the war Master Sergeant Boston was a first lieutenant.

47-1331 Ex.GI builds 5 room home for $5000No Date

A six room house for less than $5000 - that's the goal of Ex-GI and Mrs. Lester R. Johnson, 27 Onell avenue, in building their new home at Litchfield Street, off Carl Avenue, entirely of second hand lumber which came from the barn of the Herrod Estate on North Main Street. Says Mr. Johnson, who claims the record of 181 missions over Europe as greater than that of any other Brocktonian, "the lumber is far more sound than most new wood today." The Johnson's have three children: Lester R. II, who is four; Peter V., two, and Charlene M., nine months. Mrs. Johnson is the former Miss Edna C. Winberg.

47-1514 Mrs. Erroll Whittemore and Jeanne D'Agay from France June 1, 1947

American citizen Jeanne A. D'Agay, 23, of Paris, right, is re-united with her cousin Mrs. Erroll C. Whittemore, 30 North Byron Avenue, after a perilous trip in which they "kidnapped" her brother to bring him to this country. Rendered orphans in 1941 by the death of their father (their mother had died earlier), the children were assigned a guardian who refused to recognize that since their father was an American citizen, they too were Americans, and wished to prevent their trip to this country. Miss D'Agay, disregarding their order, made arrangements with the United States embassy for the voyage here with her brother Jean, 16, and finally reached this country.

47-1537 Girouard RosesJune 24, 1947

Believed by many to be Brockton's largest rose garden, the acre of land at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Girouard at 42 Melrose Avenue is currently at its best, the climax of a hobby begun more than 25 years ago. The young lady among them is their daughter, Miss Dorothea M. Giouard. More than two core varieties lace the garden and Mrs. Girouard delights in giving them away to hundreds who call at his home yearly at this time.

47-1540 Whitman Chick born with one wingJuly 23, 1947Paul W. Jolie, 34, of 30 Lambard Ave., Whitman, just over the Brockton line, displays his five week old Alabama tassel cockerel born minus a wing. The other wing, as shown by Mr. Jolie, is perfectly formed and is used naturally by the bird, one of a dozen hatched last June by one of Mr. Jolie's hens. Twenty five years ago Mr. Jolie's father, Aime Jolie, had a chick born with four legs, but the bird died a few weeks afterwards. The present freak shows signs of thriving through a normal life span.*

47-1545 Gary Richard Peck swims at 16 monthsJuly 25, 1947

Gary Richard peck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Peck of 144 Auburn St., shown taking a swimming lesson from his father. That's Gary wearing the grin. His father, who hopes the baby will beat his own record as champion swimmer and diver, takes 16 month old Gary to the Campello swimming pool almost daily. By next year, Mr. Peck hopes Gary will be swimming alone and the year after that, diving by himself. Both parent are excellent swimmers. Mrs. Peck is the former Julie M. Suirsky of Brockton. Mr. Peck, BHS graduate, was on the school swim team three years and captained it in 1941. During the war, he was a seaman at Argentina, Newfoundland, and at Oakland, CA, where he was married. He is employed at Holbrook foundry.

47-1832 91 and Still Going No Date

Although she celebrated her 91st birthday on Oct. 4 with a party, Mrs. Emma C. Thoren of 45 Thayer Avenue, East Bridgewater, still boasts excellent health--so much so, in fact, that she does all her own housework and cooking and, besides that, chops wood for her own stove which she tends daily. And, when she has spare time, after that she braids rugs and does fancy needlework. As the oldest member of the Swedish Congregational Church, Brockton, she has a host of friends both in East Bridgewater and Brockton. The party was presented to her at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alton T. Hunt, Thayer Avenue.

47-1965 Visiting Monkey Leads Brocktonians Merry ChaseJuly 20, 1947

When Cocoa, two-year old Mexican monkey owned by former Brocktonian Joseph V. O'Connell, 51 Jackson Avenue, Fitchburg, visited his one-time home on Curve Street Sunday afternoon, he took it in his mind to do a little exploring. And the result was that for nearly an hour residents of the neighborhood were in a dither as Cocoa cavorted on the railroad footbridge at Union Street, dangling from the girders until he was finally chased home by neighbors and coaxed back into his cage by his owner. Shown with him on the bridge are: Warren A. Raynard, 25, of 638 Montello Street; Mr. O'Connell, Robert E. Raynard, 16, of 638 Montello Street; and Edward F. O'Connor, Jr., 17, of 589 Montello Street, all of whom assisted in the chase. O'Connell was visiting his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Gilbert, 14 Curve Street.

47-2037 Yukins and Straffin with First IceNovember 20, 1947

Thursday night below-freezing weather caused most Brockton ponds to acquire a thin coating of ice as these youngsters soon discovered when they investigated the Ellis Brett surface before going to school this morning. And what they broke off from the edge were two big pieces of new ice, less than a quarter inch thick. All of which means they'll have to postpone skating for quite a while yet. The lads are Ward M. Yukins, Jr., left, of 380 Spring Street, and David M. Straffin, 17 Park Road.

47-2112 Former Army Staff Sergeant Irvin L. J. Hopkins with Daughter No Date

Collecting medals isn't exactly Janet Marie Hopkins idea, or even that of her daddy, Former Army Staff Sergeant Irvin L. J. Hopkins of 581 Manley Street, West Bridgewater, but when Mr. Hopkins this week was awarded the British military medal for bravery in the field in Michamps, Belgium, in 1945, two-year-old Janet Marie couldn't resist the temptation to give it her official approval. One of four New Englanders to honored by the British government, Mr. Hopkins is one of few in this section possessing the Silver Star, fourth highest American award for bravery.

47-2131 Proposed Home of Southeastern Massachusetts Indoor Sports in Brockton November 30, 1947

Architect's drawing of the front of the memorial auditorium which will be constructed here at the cost of more than $200,000, serving the city and district as a sports palace and an ideal spacious building for public and civic functions. Plans for the building include an ice-making plant for skating and hockey. Members of the corporation, local young ex-servicemen, plan for a full program of activities, including basketball, boxing, wrestling, track and various big time functions. There has been particular care taken in the plans for the most modern conveniences for competing teams and spectators. The frontage of the building will be 168 feet and it will be 268 feet in length. Seating arrangements will accommodate 5200 for such sports as boxing and wrestling, 4200 for basketball and like sports, also 3200 for hockey games. The building could well serve Brockton High's winter sports teams, the local school being without facilities for track and hockey, while the present setup at the local Armory for varsity basketball accommodate only 1000 fans, preventing hundreds of enthusiastic followers of Red and Black quintettes from witnessing home games. The building will be centrally located and close by spacious city-owned parking lots. Bids for construction contracts will be received next week, according to plans of the corporation members, who are hopeful work on the building may be started by next spring and completed by late summer or early fall of 1948.

47-2216 Brockton Baby Reads Letters at 23 MonthsDecember 10, 1947

No prodigy is 23-month-old Jonathan Dix Lovejoy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Lovejoy, 32 Sycamore Avenue, Brockton, who knows the alphabet, can pick out letters of any headline, and can count up to 20. It is not unusual for him to pick up the Enterprise and, without the aid of his parents, start reading letters from the headline. And besides that he reads a few simple words like PIE, DIG, CAT and others. When out riding, he likes to count the automobiles going by and can count consecutively up to 20. His mother, the former Miss Lucille M. Dix, who taught school at the Russell Junior High School a number of years, says the child simply likes to study letters and responds well to his parents teaching.

Those elusive peepers or hylas which make so much noise in swamps these days are actually tiny tree frogs but finding them hidden among the reeds is a painstaking task. However, armed with a flashlight, 15-year-old Robert R. Wills, son of Mr. And Mrs. Chester L. Wills, 580 Ash Street, finally found one (shown by arm) Friday night and discovered that actually the little fellow is only about an inch long. Most folks find it difficult to believe that frogs so small can make noise enough to be heard for such long distances.

47-2262 Brockton Tag Days Here Again December 10, 1947
That Brockton police mean business in their campaign to keep all-day parkers from streets in the centre of the city was called to the attention of scores of Brockton motorists every day this week when they found tags attached to their windshield. The routine was all the same, as illustrated by Police Officer William Crosby on Legion Parkway, and is part of a police drive to send all-day parkers to off-street parking areas and "give the Christmas shoppers a break."

47-2271 Greene Man So. Portland Auto VictimJuly 10, 1947

Roy T. Furbush, 57, of Greene apparently was fatally injured this afternoon when a car he was driving went out of control on Main Street near Vaughan Bridge, collided with another vehicle, snapped off a telephone pole and came to rest against a building occupied by the Household Fuel Company. Driver of the other car, Everett Coughty, of 5 Herford Avenue, suffered cuts and bruises. South Portland police said his automobile, which turned over on its side after being hit, was wrecked. Patrolman Frank L. Bernard said his investigation revealed evidence that Furbush was taken ill at the wheel and that his body was slumped to the seat of the car before the accident. Bernard said that the car traveled more than 100 feet with one wheel off the road before veering to the other side of the street to collide with Doughty vehicle. Furbush, a Maine Central Railroad engineer, was identified by two engineers from the Rigby railroad yards, Ola Hanson, Lancaster, N.H., and Herbert Amadore, Bartlett, N.H. The body was taken to the Maine General Hospital, where Medical Examiner Joseph E. Porter said an examination to determine the exact cause of death would be made Friday morning.

47-2277 Accident Thursday Night-Bartlett Street and Warren Avenue September 11, 1947

Robert Connifey, 18, 6 Pond Street, Avon was hospitalized Thursday evening after a spectacular accident at Warren Avenue and Bartlett Street which found the car in which he was riding overturned by the impact of the crash. Connifey suffered a severe laceration of the left hand and arm and was admitted to the Brockton Hospital after being taken there by Officers Healey and Erving. According to police, the car in which Connifey was riding, which was driven by Ernest J. Martineau, 503 South street, Avon, an amateur boxer, was proceeding westerly on Bartlett Street when it was in collision with a vehicle being driven northerly on Warren Avenue by Vincent Kondrotis, 275 Ames Street. The crash threw both cars around the corner onto Bartlett, with the Martineau car coming to rest on its left side on the southerly side of Bartlett Street. Both cars had to be removed by wreckers as they were badly damaged. Officers Powderly and Johnson called the highway department to place sand on the gasoline spilled from the overturned car. Injures Shoulder: Injuries to her left shoulder were claimed by Arlene C. O'Keefe, 11 Union Street, following a collision Thursday afternoon at Forest and Warren Avenues between the auto she was operating and the one driven by Carlton W. Dahlborg, 38 Beach Street. Both vehicles were damaged. Officers T. Barry and Toomey responded with the ambulance but their services were not needed.

48-0850 Alger Ice Experiment with HensAugust, 1948

In an effort to prevent further deaths to his flocks of valuable Hemptan Poultry, Sanford E. Alger Jr. placed huge cakes of ice before fans in his poultry houses of Torrey Street where, the sun, beating down on metal roofs, sent the inside mercury up to 120 degrees and caused 10 percent of the birds to die. Mr. Alger is here showing Plymouth County Agricultural Agent Joseph T. Brown how the birds enjoy their air conditioning. As a result of this idea, Alger used seven and a half tons of ice Friday, but none of the poultry died.

48-1033 Relief from HeatNo Date

Those who are prone to be disturbed by the present heat wave need only look back a scant five months to February when, as shown in the picture at left, snow buried the bench under the foot of Legion Parkway, while Tuesday afternoon when the picture at the right was taken, at the same spot, John H. Swift of 93 Pleasant Street, and Arthur A. Plouffe of Long Beach, Cal., former Brocktonian visiting here, try to get a bit of relief from the heat under the trees. Mr. Plouffe, who left Brockton 27 years ago to settle in California, says he wants no part of snow, nor the heat either, since he reports, Long Beach, has much more ideal weather.

48-1155 Brockton gets unexpected load of lumber on highway September 8, 1948

Brockton Heights residents had to look twice Wednesday afternoon when they saw 10,000 feet of lumber piled on Pleasant Street at its intersection with Pearl Street, all because a trailer track operated by Robert O. Johnston, Turnpike Street, Stoughton, failed to make the curve and overturned. No one was injured but the mishap gave Heights residents Robert Anderson and Joseph Welch, above, a chance to aid in piling the boards. Another truck from the Cambridge concern employing Johnston righted the vehicle so it could be moved.

48-1164 Freak lightning splits Entire Tree September 20, 1948

One of the most unusual results of Saturday's thunderstorm was this 50-foot tree, split from top to bottom down the center by lightning. Holding a section of bark, splintered by the blow, is Miss Jo-May Samuelson, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.H. Samuelson, 1327 Belmont Street, in the rear of whose home the tree was struck. Part of the family was home at the time but none was injured. The huge gash in the tree extends from the very highest point entirely along the trunk to the base.

48-1494 Aided Brockton High Rise in Track ActivitiesMay 3, 1948

Coach Howard T. Sandrokc has made fine progress reviving the track and field sport at Brockton High, attested by the fine record of his 1947-1948 school year aggregation which showed well in dual meets and featured a score of 10 points in the Class A State Championship meet. Before the sport was dropped from varsity status, Brockton enjoyed several State championship outfits, indoors and outdoors, and Coach Sandrokc is hopeful of returning BHS to that high status in the near future. Among his current squad are many underclassmen who will be available for the competition next year. The BHS varsity track squad for the 1947-1948 school year pictured above include: front row, left to right, Terry P. O'Donnell, George D. Kerr, Eugene A. Franciosi, Richard W. Beals, Ernest F. Orlando, Capt. Gerald W. Wallin, Lester F. Williams, Jr., Gordon W. Glenn, John W. Parsons, Robert D. O'Brien, Robert T. James. Middle row, left to right, Coach Howard T. Sandrokc, Student Manager Gordon W. Provost, Edward J. Glinski, Lowell C. Cobb, Robert H. Anderson, Harry C. Allen, John H. Courtemanche, John H. Egger, 3rd., Joseph K. Picoraro, Kenneth A. Kirker, Melvin C. Howell, W. Eldon Provost. Back row, left to right, Donald I. Baker, Hend D. Shanks, Patsy Piscitelli, Roger Orcutt, Robert A. Ippolito, Melvin S. Gold, John K. Flynn, Peter L. Tsokanis, David Cook and Richard L. Ripley.

48-1509 Weary City Election Officials after working 23 hoursNovember 3, 1948

It was a grueling night for election workers throughout the nation and in Brockton with some precincts still being counted early this morning, they found the work day nearly 24 hours long. At 7 O'clock, 23 hours after they started Tuesday morning, Mrs. Aura C. Bradley, left of 199 Spring Street, clerk; and Mrs. Edith M. Cahoon, 85 Thurber Avenue, Warden, were still wearily tabulating and rechecking the figures for Ward 1 Precinct B, in the high school gymnasium. And this was long after voters of that precinct had retired and after most of them started another day.

These grade and pre-school youngsters on the west side of Brockton enjoy the idea of school so much that after classes they gather in the backyard for additional sessions under the tutelage of sixth grade "teacher" Audrey L. Willis. The pupils are Peggy Ann. McCluskey, Maureen F. McCluskey, Mary R. Donahue, Mary Margaret War, and Joan Ward. Subjects taught are singing, reading, arithmetic, spelling, and drawing and have been going on everyday since regular school opened. With the exception of Peggy Ann and the teacher, a sixth grade pupil at the Whitman school, all the students regularly attend the Forest Avenue School.

Although he is only 19 years old, weighs 210 pounds, and stands six feet four inches high, George R. Moreau, 46 Crescent Place, Brockton, is right at home when he is in a dangerous spot and Tuesday was not exception. Assisted by his father, 48 year old Romeo J. Moreau, George climbed out on the huge face of the city hall tower nearly 200 feet above the ground to refasten the six-foot hands which had been removed for repairs. In spite of his size, young Moreau looked like a mere midget to the Brocktonians watching from below. The clock underwent a complete overhaul the past few weeks under direction.

Misses Joanne M. and Rosamund L. Murdock, daughters of Mr. And Mrs. F.W. Murdock, 374 West Elm Street, may have bemoaned their lack of skiing on January 8, when they got all dressed up for their favorite winter sport, but found no snow on which to ski. Thursday afternoon conditions were better as they tried their luck on a hill near their home, but today sleet and rain again have interfered and it looks as though skiing this winter might have to be postponed for another year, at least in this area.

49-1875 Tire Burning Cause Concern

Hundred of West Siders looking toward North Easton Thursday afternoon saw huge billows of black smoke rising from that direction and many called the Enterprise to learn its source, but instead of a big fire, as many had supposed, the smoke came from a comparatively small area where John S. Gallant, 204 Torrey Street, had dug a deep hold, besides a rock on his property, filled it with old tires and burned them to head the rock so it might be split with cold water. Looking on are John D MacInnis, 220 Torrey Street, and Theodore L. Lindsay, 30 Rockland Street.

49-2242 New Middleboro Highway cuts off Garage and Homes;
Owners Protest*March 25, 1949

The raising of the new highway on West Grove Street, Middleboro, part of Route 28 where it crosses the railroad bridge, has left homes and business establishments on the north side stranded well below the road surface while, for the most part, the home owners on the south side have accepted compensation to pay for moving the dwellings back from the road. The upper left picture shows how the gasoline service station and garage of William H. Young has become surrounded by the raised highway, and the garage owner says he has been "unable to get any satisfaction from the State"; the lower left picture shows the highway encroaching on the property of Edward W Card, 15 West Grove Street; while the upper right picture reveals the Cabot Club almost "buried" beneath the roadway; the lower right photo is taken on the south side of the road and reveals how the houses have been moved back from their foundations, most of which are now partially covered by the road. Walking up the incline from their home are Mrs. Kay M Mello and Mrs. Josephine M Connolly.

49-2293 Enterprise Newsboys Discover Fire April 14, 1949

Enterprise newsboys Edward F Murphy, 13, of 127 North Warren avenue, and Lawrence E Cribben, 14, of 16 Roan Court, delivering papers to 110 North Warren avenue, were first to discover the fire which razed the interior of the building and nearly cost the lives of its occupants. Murphy and Cribben roused Mrs. Tanasso and others in the house, and the smoke was so dense Cribben said he had to break a second floor window in the rear, hang by the sills and jump to the ground. Murphy made his escape through a back stairway.

49-2350 Avon Man Remembers Teacher of 70 Years Ago For Easter April 15, 1949*When Frederick P. Bodwell, 25 Highland Street, Avon, was six years old 70 years ago and a first grader at Randolph Public School No. 1, he presented his teacher, Miss Ellen P. Henry, then 23, a potted plant at Easter time. And Friday, seventy years later, he repeated the presentation to his teacher who is still living at 93 in the family home, 29 South Street, Randolph. Now a clerk of the Avon Water Commission and a great-grandfather, Mr. Bodwell still says Miss Henry was the ideal type of teacher. She taught school 50 years in Randolph and then, upon her retirement, worked in the Turner Library, Randolph. She is now living with her sister, Miss Mary Henry.*

49-2353 Orphans Find New Parents in Brockton

1949

Orphaned by World War II, Danguole Giedraityte, eight, and her sister, Ausrele Diedraityte, 11, are shown with their future parents, Mr. And Mrs. Joseph A. Kasper, 35 Beacon Park Street, Brockton, after they were flown across the Atlantic by a Catholic displaced persons organization. The Kaspers have been negotiating for their custody for a long time, since they are distantly related to the children, and were on hand this week to meet them in New York. When their plane arrived, owning no clothes and no possessions except a few they could carry in handbags, the children were given entirely new outfits by the Kaspers and after Easter will start studying at the St. Rocco's Church parochial school in Montello. No trace of their real parents has ever been found. The Kaspers also plan to give Ausrele, a crippled infantile victim, the best aid American medicine can provide.

49-2379 Brockton Cat Tries Short Cut in Drinking Water1949

For Tootsie, pet cat owned by Roland E. Rondeau, 15, of 212 Court Street, the business of getting a drink of water is simplicity in itself. She merely waits until the faucet its running, then jumps on the sink and helps herself as the water drops downward. So adept has Tootsie become that she prefers this method to others and doesn't hesitate to perform for all members of the Rondeau family as well as visitors.

49-2442 Steam-Powered Car1949

A 1949 automobile sticker graces the windshield of this ancient automobile, a Stanley Steamer, Vintage 1922, spernted by steam supplied a bailer under the hood. The Owner Calvin O. Holmes, 2 Linweed Street, Abington, after uses it to go to work for pleasure driving, although he likewise has a 1940 automobile for everyday use. Says Mr. Holmes its advantages are: No clutch, no transmission, no throttle and plenty of power. Its disadvantages, in the eyes of some people: it takes twenty minutes to get up steam from a cold bailer and its top speed is 40 to 45 miles per hour. Mr. Holmes purchased the car in 1945 and overhauled the bailer himself.

49-2480A Student brings Lamb to Class1949

It was a big day Thursday for first grade pupils at the Center School, West Bridgewater, for not only did Mary bring her little lamb to class but also the youngsters had a chance to study nature first hand under direction of Mrs. Mildred E. Metclaf, teacher. The lamb in this case was brought to school by Robert D. Slater, six, of 375 Ash Street, center, who is feeding the little animal for the benefit of his classmates and Mabel R. Horne, six, of 180 East Street, left with the assistance of his younger brother, Karl L. Slater, three and a half years old. The lamb was one of two in the classroom owned by the Slaters' older brother L. Paul Slater.

49-2986 June A. Yukna, woman fisherman January 1, 1949

Although there were series of men and boys assembled at Waldo Lake in D.W. Field Park for the midnight deadline at which the no-fishing ban expired Thursday night, Mrs. June A. yukha was the only woman fisherman and the first of all those present to catch a fish. At one minute after midnight Yukna, one of Brockton's most enthusiastic female Izaak waltons, brought in a three and a half pound bass. Later others proved that there are still many fish in the pond by getting equally good catches. Most of those who came at midnight remained until after dawn, while hundreds of others crowded the pond throughout the day.
