49-3337 Huge Tree Damages Pease AutoNo Date

When George W. Pease, right, of 15 Thornell Street, parked his car in the rear of the furniture store where he works on Main Street Monday he failed to figure out that a tree nearly four feet in diameter would come crashing down just in front of it a few hours later. Here he explains how the tree just missed hitting the hood with its full weight, to John J. Daly, 125 Lawrence Street, a fellow worker. The car was badly damaged by branches.

49-3368 Mystery Tombstone Covers Dry Well No Date

A mystery to the present owners, Mr. And Mrs. William Bronstein, 31 Highland Terrace, shown here with their daughter Harriet, five, is the tombstone slab, complete in every detail which covers a dry well in their cellar. The stone reads, "In memory of Mrs. Joanna Packar, who died Oct. 18, 1838, in the 74th year of her age." Effects by the Bronsteins to discover its origin and significance have thus far proved unavailable. It was there when they first occupied the house last April and, so far as is known, was placed in its present location when the house was built.

49-3398 Infant Returns Home from Hospital

For 19-month old Donna Lee Ashton, 24 Oakland Avenue, Brockton, Monday afternoon proved a red letter occasion, marking her return home from Children's Hospital where she has been the past week as an infantile victim. Shown here with her grandmother. Mrs. Harry L. Ashton, the baby is now almost completely well except for a slight right leg paralysis which doctors say can be removed through therapy. Her mother, Mrs. Lawrence W. Ashton, who was stricken with polio on Labor Day is still at the hospital and although improving, still has some paralysis.

49-3479 Police Officer Promotes Safe DrivingNo Date

Holiday accidents of the type that periodically take hundreds of lives throughout the country would be far fewer if every driver operated his car as though a police officer was sitting in the front seat. And Carl A. Anderson, 44 George Street, Whitman, with Sgt Leo E. Cleary, safety officer of the Brockton Police Department, sitting beside him, illustrator, just what that would mean for a safe driver and happy Labor Day as he and the family leave for a few days away from home. The rest of the family, in the back seat, consists of Mrs. Anderson and their children, Richard A., three, and Robert A., six months. Active in the Brockton Junior Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Anderson is one of this section's more most backers of the idea of careful driving.

49-3807 Mayor Downey's Funeral ServiceNo Date

With every available pew occupied, and hundreds overflowing onto steps and into the street outside the church, the funeral service for Brockton's late mayor, Joseph W. Downey, was conducted this morning at St. Patrick's Church. An honor guard of police officers stood on each side of the center aisle during the mass, celebrated by Rev. Joseph W. Kenney. This photograph shows only a part of the huge crowd, in forward two-thirds of the church.

49-4179 Lexington to Lakeville Bike RideNo date

From Lexington to Lakeville, via Brockton, is approximately 50 miles, a mere hop for bicycle enthusiast Peter B. Terletzky, 18, son of artist V.Z. Terletzky and Mrs. Terletzky, who started out at 8 A.M. Wednesday to visit his cousin, Gloria K. Kalenow, 19, a police patient at Lakeville Sanitarium. Peter got there alright and spent the 55 cents he carried with him for lunch money. But at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, pausing through Brockton, he developed a flat tire, and without funds, appealed to Brockton police for help. He put in a phone call to home, waited for his folks to come home and meanwhile police loaned him 50 cents for something to eat. It all ended happily when his parents arrived at 8:00 A.M. to take Peter and bicycle home. Peter is a student at Kimball Union Academy.

50-4828 Hansons From Alaska No date

Four years in Fairbanks, Alaska, were enough for Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hanson, 808 Belmont Street, and their children, Peter M., 15 months, and Christine, three years, so they packed up and flew by commercial airline from Fairbanks to Seattle and then to Boston. With them came their pedigreed Alaskan Samoyed sled dog Koyukuk, a great pet of the children. Mr. Hansen says he plans to seek residence on Cape Cod so that "the children can get a little sun after being deprived of it for so long." His mother is Mrs. Christiania Hansen, 808 Belmont Street.

50-4829 Burst Water main in Business District January 10, 1950

Main street became a pond Thursday afternoon as a 16-inch high pressure water main at school and Main Streets burst and caused a bubbling sea in the heart of the business district. In the top picture a car is shown edging along the water covered area, while in the lower photo water department crews are shown digging deep into the principal leakage site while traffic is rerouted around the inter-section. Police officers were stationed at all corners leading into the centre to direct cars away from the working group.

50-5210 Evicted Hanson Family of 10 lives in single tentNo Date

Evicted from their previous Hanson home for non-payment of rent, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dupree and their eight children ranging in age from 10 years to three months, and their dog, Teddy, are living in a single army tent in the woods off Pleasant Street in the Monponsett section of Hanson, and Mr. Dupree says that all efforts for him to find a new home have thus proved futile. In the top picture, Mr. and Mrs. Dupree are standing at the entrance to their porch-like covering in front of the tent in the bottom view. They are shown inside the tent which has for its only furniture, two cots and a crib. Four of the children sleep with Mrs. Dupree on one cot, the baby sleeps in the crib, three other children sleep on the other cot and Mr. Dupree stretches out on the makeshift wooden floor of the 'dwelling'. Their household articles, sink and oil stove form a corral in front of the tent. Mr. Dupree dug a well for water and the property itself is land-loaned to the family by a nearby bog owner. The father has been working for the town of Hanson but explained that he was unable to acquire any kind of house and was forced to buy an army surplus tent in Brockton to provide shelter for his family two weeks ago when they were evicted. The children are Carl A., Jr., 10, Jacqueline, 9, Veneta J., 6, Clara M., 5, William E., 4, Carol A., 3, John A., 2, and the baby Martin, 3-months. Chief of police Kenneth M. Mackenzie of Hanson and other town officials have likewise been trying to aid the family.

50-5226 Unique Fire Eats Through Floor at Buckley's Restaurant No date

Chief Lawrence W. Phillips of the Whitman Fire Department, right, listens as Mrs. Florence Bradshaw, 217 Warren Avenue, Whitman; shows him the hole burned in the floor burned by a unique fire this morning at Buckley's Restaurant, Bedford Street, Whitman. The blaze consumed an overstuffed chair, then ate into the floor but miraculously failed to spread further, and when firemen arrived after Mrs. Bradshaw, an employee of the restaurant, called them, there was nothing but the smoldering vacancy to confront them. The chief said he believed the lack of oxygen in the closed room prevented the spread of flames.

50-5475 Dube Japanese Cherry BlossomsNo date

East Bridgewater is fast competing with Washington, D.C., when it comes to the famed Japanese cherry blossoms, which in this case are believed to be the only ones in this area. They are wowed at the height of their blossom at the home of Mr. and Mrs. August J. Dube, 968 Central Street, East Bridgewater. Although he obtained the tress 17 years ago from Prof. Judd of Arnold Arboretum, Mr. Dube says this is the first year they have really blossomed luxuriantly. In the swing in the foreground are Jeannette J. Dube, and Dawn F. McCordick.

50-6012 Thomas Vasil, talented musician no date

Thomas Vasil, 14, of 9 Loucraft Ave, currently a pupil in the ninth grade of B.B. Russell Junior High School, is a lad whose modesty almost overshadowed his musical ability until the Brockton public school department 'discovered' him and sent him along a road which has thus far brought him considerable honor. Thomas received the honor camp award at the All-New England music camp, Oakland, Maine, to which he was sent the past summer by the school department, of which Rodney F May is Supervisor and Miss Alice T McElhiney, assistant supervisor. He has been playing bassoon under school auspices for a year with Miss Louise Tcavalieri as instructor, but in addition he has a rich baritone voice which won him additional awards at camp. The music department plans, if possible, to send one Brockton boy each summer to the camp.

Miss Elinor Sari Stone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Stone, was given a tea Saturday afternoon by her grandmother, Mrs. Henry S. Rubin, 480 West Elm Street, in honor of her coming marriage to Julius Kritzman of Lawrence. Great aunts, aunts, and second and third cousins from Boston, Providence, and Brockton enjoyed the pleasant afternoon. Pink-Tulle, caught up by floral clusters decorated a large, double heart shaped cake on the tea table. Pink and White chrysanthemums, with gray-green eucalyptus accents, provided a beautiful setting. Pourers were Mrs. Joseph Warshauer, great-aunt of the bride-elect and Mrs. Abraham Tische, an aunt. The wedding ceremony will be performed November 11 at Temple Israel.

50-6400 Bearce & DeCosta1950

The first day of the hunting season and their first experience as deer hunters brought success to William C. Bruce, 21, of 34 Hemlock Avenue, Brockton, and Richard C. DeCosta, 21, of 216 Menlo Street, Brockton. They traveled to Galmouth and bagged a spike horn buck. Daniel O'Connell, local nimradadn beagle authority, while hunting in the area of Plymouth's best pond, came upon the carcasses of three does, apparently shot three or four days prior to the opening of the season, Monday. Only the hind quarters of each doe had been removed from the illegal kills by the gunners. Many Brockton and district hunters chose the Wellfleet "plains" as their opening day hunting spot. At least 10 deer fell to hunters' guns in that area during Monday. Top was seven-point buck estimated at about 170 pounds, two large does about 150, and the remainder spike bucks and young does.

50-6472 Snake1950

This seven and one-half foot snake, probably a boa constrictor, was found Sunday in the woods of Hanover by John Prophet and Richard Lake, both of Abington. The reptile is here draped over Warren A. Greenfield of Abington after the latter had obtained it from the farm of Prophet's father-in-law, George H. Rounds, Ashland Street, Abington, where it was taken after the two Abington men had killed it. Speculation is that it may have been the reptile which escaped Zorita, snake charmer, in Northern New England last summer, just before she came to play at the Brockton Fair.

50-6563 Hatpin Holder Collection, Hobby of Stoughtonite no date

Although most people who make collecting buttons, stamps, coins or other things their hobby often find that it takes many years to build up a collection to be proud of, this is not so with Mrs. Walter W. Snowdale, 36 Broadway St., Stoughton. Mrs. Snowdale only started collecting hatpin holders about a year and a half ago and never intended to accumulate any such amount as she now possesses. Among the countries represented in her collection are France, Japan, Bavaria, Germany, Austria, and several others. Included in her collection are approximately 213 hatpin and stickpin holders, most of them dating back 50 or 60 years. Mrs. Snowdale and her husband have traveled throughout New England in search of them.

50-6588 Dog Awaits Return of Letter-carrier no date

Back in May, Veteran Rockland Postman Arthur B. Donovan, Bigelow Ave., Rockland, was transferred from a route in the West Water Street section to another route. And ever since then Lucky, a collie that was his route companion, has waited at the West Water Street mailbox daily for his letter-carrier pal. Despite the fact that Mr. Donovan visits him as often as possible, he refuses to give up his lonely vigil. His owners, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar E. Bourne, 73 Prospect St., Rockland, say the dog comes home rarely and then hardly eats. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence S. Damon, 84 West Water St., whose service station is adjacent to the mailbox, feed him also but they too say he eats little and seems to be getting thinner. The dog takes only a passing interest in strangers and even fails to be friendly with Mr. Donovan's successor on the old route, Melvin J. MacDonald, 76 Spring St.

For 25 years, the license registration 40 210 has been in the Carr family of Brockton and North Easton, and the latest generation of the family represented by two and a half year old Andrea Marie Carr, 16 North Main St., North Easton, holds the 1951 plates. The first plates bearing this number were obtained back in 1926 by Andrea's late great grand father, Rufus H. Carr, former Brockton city forester, who used them on his 1923 Essex Coach. And for every year of issue since then, the family has had the same plate number, with Andrea's father, Richard E. Carr, employed by the telephone company in Brockton, as the latest owner.

50-6761 Harry R. Forbes Restores Electrical Service After Scaffolding Accident at Lionel J. Dovilette's House 1950

Having their house shingled posed quite a few troubles for Mr. and Mrs. Lionel J. Dovilette, 379 Contar Street. After waiting three months to get the shingles, the job was finally started. However, it was momentarily halted Wednesday when Charles A. Warner fell as the scaffolding which was supporting him from the roof of the building collapsed. As it broke, he managed to sieze a wire nearby, which helped break his fall. But this also pulled down the wire and it was necessary to call the electric companty to restore service. Above, replacing the line that was torn by his descent, is Harry R. Forbes, 170 Forest Avenue, troubleshooter for the Edison Company.

50-6776 Halloween "Painters" Given Lesson for Soaping Store Windows in Montello 1950

Brockton youngsters who were caught dabbing soap on the windows of stores at North Main and Howard Streets on Tuesday afternoon, the result of over-enthusiasm with the Halloween spirit, learned that such practice doesn't pay. Under the stern eyes of police officer James F. Jawitt, left, and Stanley Milutis (not present for picture) the trio of boys spent a busy twenty minutes washing off their handiwork. The "washing party" was the penalty for the soap-marking venture.

50-6779.1-. Ambulance Committee Minstrel October 26, 1950

City Councilor James R. Lawton was a capable interlocutor. Endmen were Ernest "Pete" Lambert, Joseph Leach, John Sparling, Al Landers, George Bettel and William Haskell. Attired in white mess jackets, black trousers and jazz bows, they were an impressive sight. Variety acts on the program included: Clarise Hall, soloist; Florence Bald, accordionist of 10 years; Avris Lindquist, solist; Alice Polonsky, in a pontomina; Ralph Sharrin, Marvin Thomas and Ruth Cassini in Western songs; June Caldwell, in a song specialty; Sylvia Tilly in acrobatics; the Mapel Leaf Four, a barber shop quartette; Danny Kalby, soloist; Fanklin Fuller in a spoon specialty and the dancing LaBlancs, father, son and daughter. The program on Wednesday night ran considerably overtime. This is not unusual but the committee is prepared to shorten up the show for tonight. Manual Rubin, blind painst, who was accompanist, was called upon for a bow and was given what amounted to an ovation; he had to stand up and take another bow. Ernest Lambart, besides taking part in the show as an endman, directed the production capably. Herbert H. Hall was assistant chairman to Mrs. Robinson. Other committee chairman were: Arthur Moynihan, properties; LeStars S. Robinson, ushers; Chester Chubbuck, lights; Pearl Berry, candy; William E. Foote, tickets. Members of the chorus were: Faith Parrault, Avis Lindquist, Robert Phipps, Joseph Connolly, Bartha Holmes, Danny Kellen, Harry Maurath, Joan Lohnas, June Snow, Gladys Parmenter, Beverly Chubbuck, Patricia Baker, Dorothy Safford, Mary Fowler, Mae Cunningham, Roy Anderson, Louville Barry, Frank Barone, Clarisa Hall, Leo Carnabucci, Carol Bradbury, Joyce Smith, Nate Smith, Janice Wakeen, Joseph Landolphi, Edith Moore and Peter Santos.

50-6990.09 Brockton High School Graduation, Helen S. Kahaiyan and Her Mother, Mary Kahaiyan June 8, 1950

Despite the fact that she had been seriously ill for a long time, Mrs. Mary Kahaiyan, 50 Cipton Avenue, was able to attend the Brockton High School graduation rites at Eldon Keith Field through special arrangements which enabled her to be driven onto the field in an automobile from which she realized a dream to see her daughter, Miss Helen Shirley Kahaiyan, receive her diploma. The two were united after the program at the field.

50-6992 Abington Woman, 100, Gets Birthday Gift Early 1950

Although Mrs. Arabelle Frances Murphy, 208 Centre Avenue, Abington, won't celebrate her 100th birthday anniversary until Sunday when an open house will be observed in her honor, her great-grandson, Richard A. Farley, six, jumps the gun on others by presenting his gift to great-grandma today. Mrs. Murphy, until two years ago a resident of Dorchester, is in remarkably good health for her years. She does her own sewing, takes an active interest in news of the day and enjoys reading detective stories. She makes her home with a grandson, Vincent J. Farley.

51-0592 Tree Down on Route 1041951

A sudden gust of wind toppled this huge elm limb Sunday afternoon on Route 104, Bridgewater, just off the square, causing a tie up of traffic and taking several live wires with it. Quick work by Edison Company crew enabled resumption of traffic, which, meantime, had been re-routed by Bridgewater police.

51-0680 Dog Gerry Takes Vacation 1951

Usually it's the family that goes on vacation, not the family pet. So when Gerry, the big black dog owned by Mr. and Mrs. James A. Canton, 182 Grafton Street, came back from a six-week stay at Syracuse, N.Y., Jill F., six, and Jean R. Canton, three and a half, couldn't help giving him a big hug. The dog's vacation resulted when the Cantons, involved in a minor accident near Syracuse on a visit to Mrs. Canton's brother-in-law and sister, Ms. and Mrs. George Hamzie, had to leave the car for repairs. They couldn't take the dog back with them by plane and remained behind, much to the dismay of the youngsters.

51-0781 Accident at Belmont May 9, 1951

The enclosed porch at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Abner C. Jackson, 1328 Belmont Street, Brockton, near the Easton line, was wrecked early Wednesday evening when a car operated by Miss Lois Nevens, 22, of 925 Warden Avenue, careened into it, leaving the windows at odd angles, scattering furniture and, in all, moving the front of the house sideways by some three feet. The occupants were away at the time. Miss Nevans was admitted to Brockton Hospital for facial and knee lacerations.

51-0887 Mother's Day Banquet No date

Because Sunday was Mother's Day, Brockton fathers of the YMHA decided to take everything into their own hands in a night-before-Mother's-Day banquet Saturday evening at the YMHA. So they prepared and served the whole dinner while mothers just sat and enjoyed it. Here, Mrs. H. Leonard Schultz and Mrs. Jack N. Lipman, left, accept a helping of turkey from their husbands who were chairman of the dinner and YMHA president, respectively.

51-0888 Yankunas Power Boat No date

Working entirely during their spare time, 36-year-old former state trooper Peter Yankunas, 433 North Carey Street, and his father, Anthony, 62, have finally completed a 28-foot power boat started nearly three years ago in the Yankunas garage. Here the pair put the finishing paint touches on their work while Peter's two and a half year old daughter, Virginia Anne, watches. In order to get the boat from the garage, it was necessary to remove some of the cement bricks from the side. The pair plan to move the boat by trailer Saturday to King's Landing, Scituate, for launching. Mr. Yankunas is now employed as a vumper at French, Shriner and Urner Boston.

No need for a diary at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie P. Packard, 1148 Pleasant Street, for this stair runner, a hooked rug made by Mrs. Packard, records for all time the important dates in the family. Sitting on the stair is their granddaughter, Linda Jane Packard, four, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Preston D. Packard, 35 Byron Avenue. The stair has 12 rises and lists dates of birth and trips which the popular Brockton couple have taken.

One of the 'gamiest' competitors entered in the Musical Chair class of the Hanover Hunt Club Show Sunday afternoon was 10 year old Donna Hendrikson, 645 Hancock Street, West Abington, who won third place, only after displaying one of the most extraordinary exhibitions of competitive spirit observed during the afternoon. Donna, who had to jump from her horse to the ground and then remount through the competition, often found a 'helping boost up' by ring assistant Henry Cain very helpful, if not necessary. The horse, "Buchanan," is owned by Nancy E. Slocum, 37 Park Avenue, South Weymouth.

Folks who travel on South street, Brookville, look askance at a mailbox reading "200 Miles" but it has no relation to highway travel at all. The figure 200 stands for a house number on South Street, and the word "Miles" is merely the name of its occupant, William F. Miles, 25, World War II veteran, who works as a body repairman in a Brockton garage.

51-1381A Whitman Girl Scouts Spend Summer at Home of Mrs. Alice Carleton1951

Whitman girl scouts and others can benefit from real outdoor living as the result of the generosity of Dr. and Mrs. R.K. Carleton who have given 33 acres of their 66 acre farm for a camp in memory of Dr. Carleton's mother, Mrs. Alice Carleton, for whom the camp is named. Here part of the group of girls at camp enjoy a song fest under leadership of their director, Mrs. Edouard A. Fortier, 232 Beulah Street, and song leader, Mrs. William Denham, rear left. The camp is supervised by a committee of which Mrs. Dorothy Benner is chairman, and is located off Plymouth Street. Dr. Carleton is professor of chemistry at Boston College.

51-1451 Mrs. Hatch Drives Coast to Coast1951

For Mrs. Charles R. Hatch, 42 Grant Avenue, Brockton, driving from coast to coast is no feat at all, even with two small children along in the car. Mrs. Hatch, wife of Sgt. First Class C.R. Hatch, who is now in Japan, made their trip from Tacoma, Washington, to Brockton in nine days, with their sons, David W., eight months, and Richard A., three years. Richard sat in the back seat playing with his toys most of the time and David slept. Mrs. Hatch traveled only by day, stopping at night to stay in motels. "It was nothing at all," she said. "We had no trouble whatsoever, except two flat tires which fortunately happened near gas stations, and the children behaved very well." Mrs. Hatch is the former Miss Phyllis C. Newbomb of the city.

Well explains 14 year old Kenneth W. Thomas, 29 Stebbings Avenue, Brockton, who has just returned from a two-and-a-half month stay in Long Beach, California. It's a Moican, that's what it is. Kenneth tells doubting Kenneth A. Youngstrom, 11, of 190 Manomet Street, and Paul R. Anderson, 12, of 22 Anania Terrace, that out west where he has been visiting, it's all the rage among both boys and girls. The barbers just cut your hair on each side and leave a streak down the middle, Indian fashion, and that's all there is to it. All the kids wear it that way, Kenneth says. He's been visiting relatives in Long Beach.

51-1481 East Side Dog, Consistent Show Winner1951

Though John Sir-Butch, a two-year old St. Bernard dog owned by John E. Thomas, 29 Hunt Street, has been entered in only five shows, the first of which was at the Brockton Fair last September, he has won honors in each entry and has already won two of the 15 points required for a dog to be recognized as a champion. John Sir-Butch's latest achievement was the "Best of Breed" award, given to him at the recent Cape Cod Kennel Club dog show held at Coonamessett Inn. Shown here with the dog is Mrs. Thomas, who says the outstanding characteristic of the dog which commands the attention of the judges is its perfectly marked face.

51-1704 Bread is Good Bait No date
You don't need fancy bait to catch fish these days, according to George F. Spieler, Jr., 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Spieler, 230 South Street, Brookville. George tried fishing in the pond at Holbrook grove, using a piece of bread attached to a hook as the lure. And as a result, this 20-inch pickerel grabbed the bread and the hook- and George didn't wait any longer. He just pulled the big fish in.

51-1869 South Street Methodist Church Members Replicate Church No date

To provide visual evidence of its roof-fund campaign, members of the South Street Methodist Church are literally shingling the roof of a model church replica of their own, with slabs, each of which represents a $10 donation to the fund to pay for repairs to the roof of the larger church. Here church leaders show how some of the model is already covered. Left to right are H. George Evans, 21 Montello Street extension, president of the board of trustees; Elmer O. Barnes, 45 Fulton Street, by leader; Rev. J. Arthur Dahlstrand, pastor; and Alton D. Landers, who provided the church replica for the campaign.

For the fifth consecutive year, Joseph H. Doran of Whitman, shown above with his little daughter, Nancy M., two and a half, has been collecting gifts at Christmas time for presentation to the Veterans' Hospital, West Roxbury, for ex-GI's who are patients there. They have been contributed by Whitman residents, and accompanying each is a message: "In a few words we want to tell you how our visit comes about each year. We are not an organization, just simply a group representing our town, Whitman, Mass. This is an annual affair. An ex-GI of this last war put up a tree in his store and requested gifts for hospitalized veterans on Christmas eve...hence our visit with the hundreds and hundreds of presents for you from our Town of 8000 people."

51-3188 10-Year-Old Beverly Rescues Dog1951

Were it not for 10-year-old Beverly Ann Oliveira of Taunton visiting her Brockton grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen H. Willis, 69 Liberty Street, her dog Pal might not be alive today. Thursday afternoon Pal fell through thin ice in the channel of Coweaset Pond, in back of Shields Avenue. When the dog's struggles failed to show him making progress, skaters in the neighborhood called for help. Emerson M. Howard, 10 Shields Avenue, brought a 20 foot ladder onto the ice, but he proved too heavy himself to approach the animal. At this point Beverly volunteered to crawl out and she finally reached the dog, grabbed him by the collar and pulled him from the water even though the ladder itself was sinking. Agent Herbert C. Licomb of the...

52-0118 Stewart Family Orchestra1952

Although they used to be more common, the days of the so-called family orchestras are fast disappearing but up at Brockton Heights Mr. and Mrs. Victor E. Stewart and their four children think differently about such a group. With Mr. Stewart as their chief music critic, Mrs. Stewart and the children have banded together in an orchestra of their own, mainly to play for themselves and gain musical experience. Left to right are Peter A., 15, oboe; Mr. Victor E. Stewart, Jr, 17, trombone; Mrs. Stewart, piano; Meredith E., 11, cello; and Phillip D., 14 violin.

52-0119 Woman Enrolls in Mechanics Class1952

Mrs. Mercedes A. Tower, 63 East High Street, Avon, who has had a license to operate a car since she was 16, is one woman driver who wants to know what she's driving when she's on the road. As a result she has enrolled as the only woman in the automobile mechanic course at Brockton Evening High School of which Alton E. Johngren is principal. Here she's shown with Instructor David B. Sullivan at the High school. "If something goes wrong with the car, I want to know what it is," Mrs. Tower says.

52-0120 Hospital Patient Creates Violins1952

Rather than remain inactive during his year and nine months as a patient at the Plymouth County Hospital, South Hanson, 42-year-old Benjamin N. Champagne, 276 West Elm street, Brockton, has spent his entire spare time at the difficult task of making violins, a skill he acquired through hard work and study only since his becoming hospitalized. So perfectly put together are Mr. Champagne's instruments that they are on demand by leading violinists in Boston and other cities. Here Mr. Champagne is showing his latest product to Dr. Donald [] Martin, superintendent of the hospital.
