QUOTES FROM LAMBDA EPSILON SIGMA INDUCTEES

In an everchanging world where diversity is ubiquitous, I have learned the value of being exposed to and learning from individuals who come from a different background and have distinct beliefs and values.

Annelise Howick '20

Knowledge and understanding...these are the tools to combat ignorance.

Joseph Annand '21

To promote intellectual growth, we must share our knowledge with others because in most cases, it is the only exposure we have to new perspectives.

Michelle Stracqualursi '20

To me, sharing this experience and what I have learned is almost as gratifying as the actual pursuit of knowledge itself.

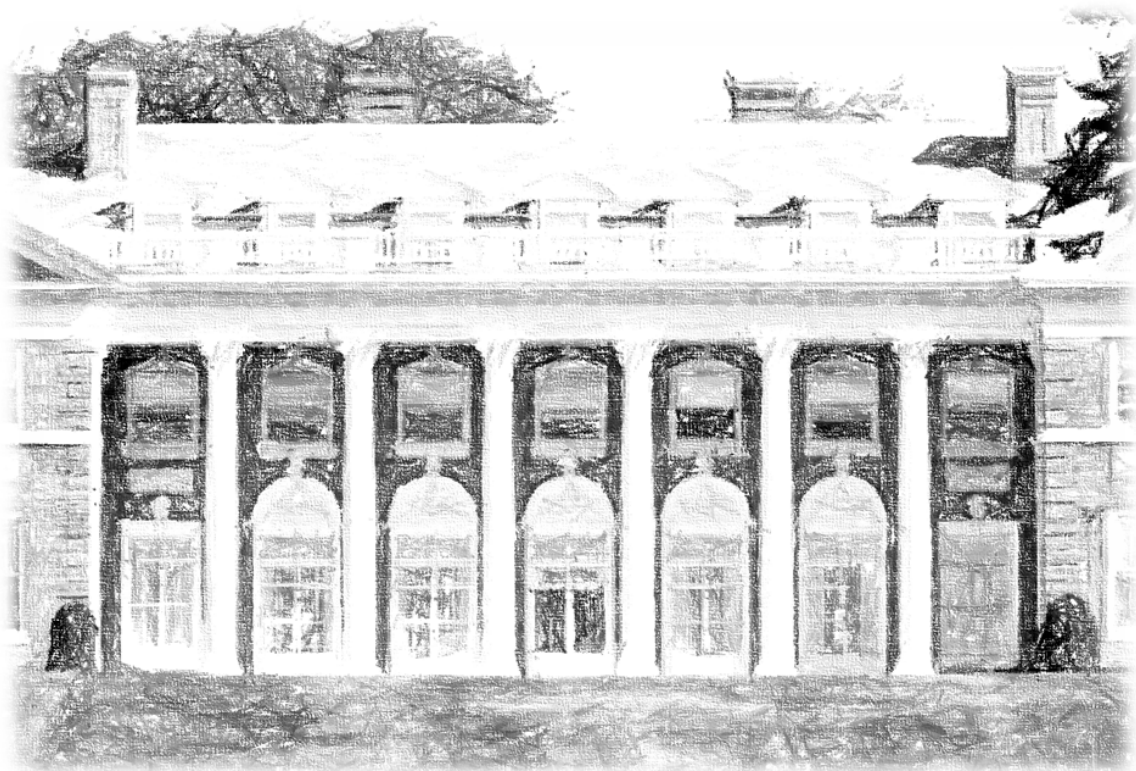

Derek Ivey '21

I have been fortunate enough to obtain an education from Stonehill College, which has taught me that what we learn, not just in the classroom, shapes who we are.

Sabrina Ciampa '21

While I am grateful Stonehill gave me the education required for my career path, I am most grateful that Stonehill taught me to share this education.
